Are you ready to start improvising more creatively? Feeling like your solos all sound the same? Have you hit a plateau in your playing?

Come to the UVMC on April 7th for a jazz improvisation workshop with saxophonist/pianist Fred Haas and saxophonist Michael Zsoldos. They will guide you through an afternoon of digging into the elements of jazz improvisation—melody, harmony, rhythm, combined with active listening to historic recordings, and will show you how to practice creatively.

You'll leave the workshop armed with new tools to take into the practice woodshed and into your jazz ensembles.
